Why You're Here:

The Standardized Aptitude Test (SAT) is a nation-wide assessment created to help colleges know which students are academically talented and it offers a metric to measure it. Colleges, employers, family, and friends all want to know how you score. This course is to support your test-taking and content skills for this important day. You have been selected to participate in this unique opportunity based off your PSAT score and likelihood to improve. This year's SAT is provided to you by WOHS on Tuesday, April 10th, 2018 which is 217 days away from the 1st day of school (updated calendar here). You WILL be prepared.
